

FY24 Board Skills matrix

The Board regularly reviews the mix of knowledge, skills, experience and capabilities required to effectively govern Megaport. During the reporting period, the desired mix of skills and experience was updated to align more closely with the capabilities relevant to a global NaaS business and the current directors' skillset and experience was assessed against these capabilities. The result of this assessment is set out below. The Board considers that the current members, taken as a whole, have the appropriate mix of skills, experience and capabilities to oversee Megaport's global NaaS business, with most directors holding high levels of capabilities in most skill areas. The Board also demonstrates diversity in terms of gender, with women comprising half of the Non-Executive directors, and in terms of international work experience.

Megaport uses the skills matrix to assess the current composition of the Board, to assist with renewal and succession planning and to identify areas for skills development for existing directors. The assessment demonstrates Board diversity in terms of gender, with 50% of non-executive directors being women, and strong alignment with Megaport's largest customer base, with most directors having held senior roles in US based companies.
